HistoryManager
Keeps a history of all the directories that the user accesses. Its header file HistoryManager.h contains all methods and data related to HIstoryManager.cpp. This class contains the functionality for the methods found in the header file. The history manager works with the display handler and CommandCD to display directories.